Review:

"With its crystalline tones and lush orchestral keyboards, magical sounds of the humpback whales, primordial drum that is the heartbeat – all these elements of Zen Mama bring the mother and the baby into a natural state of relaxation both pre and post birth. It creates an introspective atmosphere that encourages mothers to explore the natural bond with their baby.

The entrancing overtone chants of the Gyuto Monks on the fertility chant "Baby Puja" further adds to the album's effectiveness. This is a great album that is specifically designed to enhance any stage of the mothering experience, and can be enjoyed by all the people involved in the mystery of birth."

Artist Biography:

A German native, Kamal now lives in Australia where he not only works on his own music, but also works as a sound engineer and producer. He is a thoroughly established New Age artist with a distinct style and sound who has more than a quarter-of-a-million CD sales to his credit. Trained as a classical guitarist, he expanded his studies into the worlds of jazz and rock until the early '80s when he began experimenting with synthesizers and sequencers. Drawing much of his inspiration from the environment, he frequently uses the natural sounds of the Earth and its many inhabitants as primary sounds and themes in his compositions and arrangements.

Gyuto's monks are known for their tradition of overtone singing also described as "chordal chanting" which is said to have been transmitted by their founder.

Album Description:

Kamal's Zen Mama features a collection of compositions that are specially created for expectant mothers and children. One of the tracks is the "Baby Puja" which is an ancient chant performed by the Gyuto monks for the welfare of children, fertility and especially pregnancy and birth and has never been recorded and published before. This album also includes the sounds of humpback whales woven together with violin and viola creating an ambiance of peacefulness and beauty. To complete this unique Kamal album, there is an interpretation of Charles Gounod's "Ave Maria."
